The new attachment to the furnace at the electric light works increases the draft so that coal slack can be used as fuel as well as good coal. This will make a great saving in the cost of running the works and will add somewhat to the value of the mines. Hitherto the coal screenings from the mines has been a nuisance and a danger. Now it will have a certain value and will be made use of.

THOS. BELLAMY, manager for the Massey-Harris company at Edmonton desires the BULLETIN to correct a misstatement which appeared in its report of the interview with Hon. Mr. Foster. The price of the Massey-Harris binder at Edmonton in 1892 was $175 for cash and $190 on time. In 1893 the price was $155 cash and $170 on time. This is $20 under the figures given in the report. The BULLETIN very much regrets the appearance of the error.

THE funeral of the late Frank G. Stewart of Clover Bar, whose death occurred on Tuesday morning last, took place on Wednesday afternoon to the Edmonton cemetery. The service was conducted by Rev. Canon Newton. The cause of death was typhoid fever by which deceased was attacked about two weeks before. Chas. Stewart, the younger brother of the deceased, has also been suffering from fever.

At the regular monthly meeting of the W. C. T. U. held at the residence of Mrs. Jas. McDonald on Tuesday afternoon the 21st instant, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. (Rev.) A. McDonald; vice presidents, Mrs. (Rev.) B. G. McQueen, Mrs. O. H. Bush, Mrs. Mary and Mrs. Bellamy; corresponding and recording secretary, Mrs. Jas. McDonald; treasurer, Mrs. Robertson; auditor, Miss Phillips; superintendent of meetings, Mrs. Bellamy. Meetings to be held fortnightly instead of monthly, at 5:30 in the usual place.

The delays and disappointments which have been connected with the drifting ice in the river during the past week speak loudly of the necessity of a bridge at this point. In a mild and open fall there is only a minimum amount of trouble, as the river closes in a day or two; but in an early and changeable fall the situation is very different, as the ice keeps coming in and the river is not only dangerous to navigation but is also a nuisance to the people. There is no place in Canada where a bridge is needed so badly as at Edmonton at the present time.

VERY few passengers on Monday's train.

Du. and Mrs. True returned from Calgary on Monday's train.

THE snow at the upper ferry ceased running on Monday night.

Mrs. L. Moret of Fort Saskatchewan died on Sunday morning after a long illness. She leaves three little children. The deceased was a native of Switzerland.

A sudden change in the weather took place on Monday night. At nine o'clock in the evening it was warm and raining. About ten snow began to fall and a heavy frost set in. Tuesday was quite cold.

UNDER the new time table the mails will be a little longer in going and coming, but this will be more than made up for by the more regular time made and the more suitable hours of arrival and departure.

ACCORDING to the new time table the train from the east will reach Calgary at 12:55 at night. The train from the west will reach Calgary at 2:05 in the morning. The Edmonton train leaves Calgary at 8 a.m. reaching Edmonton at 7 p.m. The return trip to Calgary is made between the same hours.

AN Ottawa despatch to the Winnipeg Tribune says: "A. Fraser and J. Shelton, British farmer delegates, arrived here this morning from a trip through Manitoba, the Northwest Territories and British Columbia. They had an interview with Mr. Daly and Mr. Burgess. They speak highly of the country and say they have no hesitation in recommending it to intending settlers."

THE fire engine was employed yesterday, and to-day in filling tanks and has given perfect satisfaction. The tank on Fraser avenue was filled from the fire hall tank to-day and the fire hall tank will be refilled from the river. The tank near Norris & Carey's will be filled from the upper ferry landing. The weather during Tuesday and Wednesday rendered working with the hose very unpleasant and somewhat difficult. Several of the tanks which were filled at first are found to be leaking and will have to be filled up again. Mr. Parsons, who is in charge of the engine, says that the coal used in getting up steam is superior to the Pennsylvania coal used in Ontario in that it raises steam as quickly and is much cleaner, not causing soot to collect in the flues.

THE Macleod Gazette in its latest issue has the following item: The cold snap of Saturday and Sunday had the effect of bringing down from the north immense flocks of wild fowl, swans, geese, ducks, etc. The bulk of the swans and geese did not make a stop here, but kept on flying in a southerly direction. Myriads of ducks however, chiefly mallards, settled on the rivers and creeks in the neighbor hood, and local sportsmen had a picnic for a day or two. This item shows clearly that good duck shooting does not commence in the south until it has begun to fall off in the north. That is, the large ducks breed in the north and only go south as the weather becomes cold. This is the reason of the demand for an earlier shooting season in the north than is found desirable in the south.

THE semi-annual meeting of the Edmonton curling club was held in Jas. McDonald's office on Monday evening at 8 o'clock. J. A. McDonald, president of the club, in the chair. The office of chaplain, vacated by Rev. C. Cunningham, was occupied by Rev. D. G. McQueen. J. Looby was elected club skip in place of W. Patton, resigned. The secretary treasurer was authorized to pay the club fees and capitation tax to the Manitoba branch of the Royal Caledonia Curling club. The committee of management was instructed to make the best arrangements possible for the winter's sport. The prospects of curling during the coming winter are much better than at this time last year.

A MEETING of the public school trustees was held on Tuesday evening, October 31st, in Laflerty & Moore's bank. Present—J. Cameron, J. A. McDougall, Jas. McDonald, Thos. Bellamy, Mr. McDougall in the chair. The committee consisting of Messrs. McDougall and McDonald reported that W. Johnstone Walker would forego the past month's rent of $25 for the proposed primary school room, provided the trustees would remove the counters and shelves and rent from C. W. Sutter the room in rear of the building at $5 a month. Cameron—McDonald moved that a by-law to borrow $200 from the Imperial bank be passed. Eight tenders for coal to be supplied the schools were received. McDonald—Bellamy moved that Jas. Dinner's tender be accepted at $2 a ton, the coal to be well screened and of good quality. The pay sheet was passed as follows: M. G. Connor, 3 chairs, $2.85. Salaries for October $217.82. Cameron—McDonald moved that the principal, Mr. Campbell, be informed that there will be a few small children attending the old school and that he be requested to arrange for them. Bellamy—McDonald moved that the secretary write Mr. Goggin asking him as to the prospects of getting a fourth assistant; services to begin on January 1st; salary $550.

ON Tuesday forenoon the steam fire engine was taken out for its first test. It was taken to the lower ferry landing and placed on the snow, the hose was laid from the tank in front of E. Rayner's store to the river and was flowing into the tank. The tank was filled in about twenty minutes. After the first tank was filled the nozzle was put on and the water was thrown over the flag-staff on the Queen's Hotel. The hotel is three stories high and the flag staff about twenty feet higher. This fulfilled the requirements of the contract, and demonstrated the power and good qualities of the engine to the satisfaction of everyone. This test was through 1000 feet of hose, which carried the water from the river up the river bank 200 feet in height and then forced it 30 feet in the air clear of the hose. The rubber hose was used to carry the water from the river up the bank. The cotton hose was attached afterwards to carry the water to the other tanks. The tank at the Jasper house and the double tank at the fire hall were filled during the afternoon.

And whereas it is expedient to borrow the said sum of $6,070 by the issue of debentures, the principal whereof shall be payable within 10 years from the date upon which this By-law shall take effect and which shall bear interest in the meantime payable half yearly at the rate of five per cent per annum.

And whereas it is expedient to provide for the repayment of the said principal sum by the creation of an equal yearly sinking fund.

And whereas the total amount which will be required to be raised annually by a special rate for repaying the said debt of $6,070 by means of a sinking fund as aforesaid, and the interest thereon as aforesaid is $787.00.

W. T., and to have attached to them coupons for the payment of interest.

(3) For the purpose of paying the amount which shall be required to be raised annually for paying the said interest and creating an equal yearly sinking fund to be set apart for the payment of the said principal sum of $6,070, a special rate of eighty-five one hundredths of a mill on the dollar, over and above all other rates and taxes shall be levied (in the same manner and at the same times as the general municipal taxes) upon the whole rateable property in the Municipality annually for the period of 10 years from the 1st day of November, 1893, being the period during which the said debentures will run.

EDMONTON BULLETIN, NOVEMBER 22nd, 1893.

VOL. XVI.

In making its bow to the public in the thirteenth issue of the fourteenth year of its publication the BULLETIN wishes to acknowledge the hearty support which it has received in the past from the people of Edmonton and surrounding country and to ask for a continuation and increase of that support if it gives value therefor. The past year has been an eventful one in the progress of the district and the BULLETIN is not too modest to claim that in every particular it has kept pace with that progress. From the toy press upon which its first volumes were printed to the first class steam machine now in use, it has improved its facilities as rapidly as the development of the country would permit. Greater apparent progress might have been made, but only could have been by incurring such liabilities as would have made it an organ for the advancement of private interests rather than a public newspaper in the proper sense of the word. It is not too much to say that no spread of paper, no amount of fine phrases, can ever be worth as much to the public at large as the timely word which is known to express the needs of the many, rather than the wishes of the few. While the BULLETIN does not lay stress on the mere size of the sheet which it now issues—for quality not quantity is the proper standard of value—it would like to point out that from week to week it publishes more matter concerning and of interest to the Edmonton district than any other paper in the Territories gives regarding the district in which it is published. At the same time in typographical appearance and freshness of news it is and has always been second to none. The newspaper of a town is the means by which the outside public become aware of its existence and become acquainted with its capabilities and advantages. It creates a favorable or unfavorable impression regarding the town in the minds of its readers; and in publishing a neat and new paper the BULLETIN claims to be rendering the town a service in the way of attracting attention to it such as could not be rendered by any other agency. This is only possible by an unceasing expenditure of time and labor and money. The proprietor does not stint either the time or labor, but must look to those who have a financial interest in the advancement of the district—as every man has who owns property or lives or intends to live in it—for the money. And on this side of the question the small amounts count as well as the large. The two dollar subscription is as important in its place as the big advertisement or printing bill. Not because $2 is worth as much to the printer as $200 but because the total amount of the subscriptions probably equals the total amount of the advertising patronage. In order that a paper may be published; in order that news may be fully given and opinions freely expressed, plant and stock must be purchased and wages paid. Unless these are paid for either the paper must cease publication or pass under the control of some one who is willing to pay these accounts for the sake of the influence of the paper in his favor for some private purpose. The BULLETIN has always found that the people of this town and district were willing to pay for a good article when they get it. And in incurring the large expenditure necessary in order to produce a paper that would worthily represent the progress and standing of this town and district the proprietor has done so in the full confidence that he will receive the necessary financial support.

Notwithstanding it is to have a morning paper—the Telegram.

THE PAST SEASON

Opened later than usual in this district and plowing was not general until after the 20th of April. From that time forward, however, until the middle of September, it was entirely favorable in almost every particular. The only drawback was that the lack of rain in August and September caused the root crops to turn out lighter than was expected in the early part of the season. The dry weather which usually follows the disappearance of winter snow in April and continues until the latter end of May did not occur at all. The snow did not leave until later than usual and no sooner had it gone than the rains commenced and continued in frequent light showers until August. Nothing could have been more favorable for the growth of crop. The seed started well and grew well and had no drawback during the time of growth. August was an excellent ripening month and also the first part of September, so that when the heavy frost of September 16th occurred the grain generally was well matured, much of it was harvested and much more of it might have been, had the effort been made. Wheat, barley and oats are all of good quality and are giving large yields. There was abundance of hay and it was saved in excellent condition. Small wild fruits were abundant in their season, and potatoes, and roots and vegetables generally are a fair, but not a large crop. Wild ducks and prairie chickens have both been as numerous as heart could desire. In all things the past has been a season of plenty.

But if the weather was favorable up to September 16th it has been as far the reverse since as could well be imagined. Cold, wet and changeable throughout the whole season when people looked confidently for it to be warm, dry and steady. Consequently harvesting and the taking up of roots have been very greatly delayed. Beyond the discoloration of barley left standing in the stacks too long no serious damage has resulted, unless the hard frost of the past night or two should have reached roots temporarily pitted in the fields. Of course as harvesting has been delayed fall plowing and threshing have been kept back and reproduce is not being marketed as early in the season as usual.

On the other hand the returns from the threshers are most satisfactory and what is better, although prices are low, there is a cash market for all produce. Wheat is wanted for local grinding. Southern Alberta and interior British Columbia want oats and potatoes in unlimited quantities and barley can probably be sold at Calgary or Vancouver as well. Butter and eggs are in good local demand. Taken altogether the prospects for the winter are encouraging, and would be very much more so if fair freight rates could be secured.

The progress of the district has also been very satisfactory. While the predictions of last winter have not been fulfilled to the letter in the matter of immigrant arrivals, a very large number of people of a very good class have come to this district and made their homes here—a much larger number than ever came in one year before, and a much larger proportion of the total immigration to the Territories than ever before. What is better, those who have come are well satisfied with their selection and it is more than likely that next year will see realized the prospects of last year. Of course the financial collapse in the United States has had a very great effect in holding back both immigration and investment from this region. The stringency came so suddenly and was so severe that people were taken unawares and could not make new arrangements until the season was over, but there is no doubt that in the end this same panic will have a favorable effect on immigration to Canada in future years. The contrast between panic and wholesale failure on the one side of the line and steady progress on the other is too great to escape attention, and is plain proof that the business methods on this side of the line are the best.

All things considered, Edmonton has held its own very well this year in every way. Its position has been strengthened and its fame spread further abroad than ever before. While we can congratulate ourselves on the success of the past season we may look forward confidently to still greater progress and prosperity in the near future.

All British Columbia sealers are now in their total catch for the season being 69,741, of which 28,613 were caught on the British Columbia coast, 20,173 off Japan and 11,955 in Russian waters. Two American vessels which reported here, bring up the total to 70,001.

Tenders for the construction of a traffic bridge across Red Deer river are being called for on Northwest government account.

The Macleod Gazette and Lethbridge News report falls of snow in that district in the week ending October 26.

Hugh John Macdonald has finally resigned his seat for Winnipeg in the Dominion parliament.

MOOSOMIN'S OPINION.

The Moosomin board of trade presented the following address to Hon. Geo. E. Foster on the occasion of his recent visit to that town:

To the Hon. G. E. Foster, Minister of Finance.

HON. AND DEAR SIR,—We are pleased to have the opportunity of laying before you our opinion as to the requirements and necessities of the settlers in this district. The portion of the Territories being totally dependent on agricultural pursuits and products is in a position of great necessity that the agricultural should be encouraged. We are much impressed with the fact that the necessities of the producing farmer cost too much, owing to the want of competition, through conditions existing, which are either of a nature to hinder or to increase the cost of the farmer. These conditions are in implements, timber, wire, lumber, and wire fencing, coal oil and many other of the necessities of the agricultural. The excessive freight rates charged by the rail way on the above articles and others of necessity to the farmer, and greatly to the detriment of the farmer, and which will, in the future, be increased through the excessive cost of the supply of the farmer being so nearly exhausted and settlers will soon be obliged to purchase their necessities from some one to be a great advantage to the farmer. It is in the interest of the farmer to have the necessities of the farmer to be supplied at a low price, and these sold for a low price in the long run. It is of the greatest importance that the settlers should in this severe climate have fuel as low in price as possible. We would like to impress upon you the advisability of reducing the duty on such articles as before mentioned, and of using your influence with the railway company to secure a material reduction in freight rates on such articles as coal, fencing, lumber and building material generally, and also a lower outward rate on our agricultural exports. We believe that this course would tend to remove the great discontent which now undoubtedly exists, and would encourage interest among the farmers to continue their struggles for success.

Signed on behalf of the Board of Trade.

W. H. BARTON, President.
T. H. CROSS, Secretary.

GERMAN SETTLEMENT.

H. Carsten, Dominion government immigration agent, who visited this district some weeks ago to inspect the progress made by the German settlers here is reported as follows by Der Nordwesten the German newspaper of Winnipeg: He went first to Langenburg and vicinity, thence to Josephburg near Grenfell; thence to Edenwald and the remaining colonies near Balgonie and Regina, and from there he travelled to Edmonton. Everywhere he found the settlers, with few exceptions, very contented and hopeful and everywhere a healthy growth in the prosperity of the settlers was observable. The wheat harvest this year in the Langenburg and Edmonton districts has turned out very well, and the other field and garden products yielded a good return. Between Grenfell and Regina the heat in August diminished the yield somewhat, but over here the harvest was in general not unsatisfactory. Near Langenburg and southern from Balgonie many settlers complained of lack of water, with the help of a government being machine which is now already at work near Langenburg, it is hoped that this evil will soon be alleviated. The lack of schools in some of the younger colonies will soon disappear of itself with the increasing prosperity of the settlers. The most of the settlers now possess very neat houses and large convenient stables and live in very good circumstances. The following complete and correct approximate survey of the number and possessions of the colonies in the west. Besides those reported in this table there are 10 families at Shio Lake, 9 at Shio Lake, 10 at Shio Lake, 10 at Shio Lake, 10 at Shio Lake, and between 30 and 50 families at Shio Lake.

THE OUTLOOK FOR MANITOBA.

Winnipeg Tribune.

Manitoba has not grown in population as was expected and the settlers already here cannot be said to be prosperous; but there is one hopeful thing about it all, and that is that the causes of this state of affairs are removable, and, if we wait ourselves like men, will be removed. It is not that we have been engaged in a vain conflict with an implacable force of nature but that we have been robbed by the hand of man, by politicians, corporations and monopolies. Men have gone through the province preaching a doctrine of despair. The financial minister has told his hearers that the present condition of the province is due to no government which can be remedied but to nature which can be ended, but to geographical situation and other causes beyond our reach. If this were true it would be folly for us to remain in this country, it had better be abandoned to the wolf and the starving Indian. We have been thrown away our years and strength in a vain endeavor, the business which has been spent by Canada has been spent idly, and that national future upon which so much has been staked is a miserable failure. But the Minister's statement is not true.

We have here a country and a people which, if not pillaged by the connivance and assistance of a false government, would at the least afford its inhabitants plentiful food and clothing, the necessities of a civilized life, plain living, perhaps, but of the highest order in morals, manners and intelligence, rich in sources of delight and happiness. The country is not an el dorado; it has its drawbacks. But the soil is rich; the climate is healthful for man and beast, compared with other countries crops, whether of grain or vegetables, give more than usually favorable returns on the average for the labor spent on them; stock raising and the prairie grasses yield rich milk. The population is on the whole a good one, although the Ottawa government has a passion of bringing in Russian Jews, German boys, Magyars and people from the slums of all nations. The fault is not in natural conditions or in the character of the population; it is in artificial barriers created through misgovernment.

No doubt if wheat prices were higher settlers would not be so badly off; but even with prices as they have been, if the farmers had in their pockets to-day the money they have paid since they came here in tribute to promote manufacturers in addition to fair prices for their goods, and the money paid in freight rates in addition to a fair charge, they would be out of debt and with money on hand instead of being as they are, and the province would be prosperous everywhere instead of being as it is. No doubt again by going more into mixed farming those settlers may improve their condition who have any stock or can get it and keep it from the half, or will not need to sell it for food and clothing. But we shall never see prosperity while the tariff rests upon the land, while low prices are made lower by high freights, and while the settler is robbed of one-third of his produce by the protected manufacturer.

The removal of our artificial barriers lies in our own hands. At the last Dominion election the Government had a majority of something about fifteen. Had the Northwest members been Liberal instead of Conservative, the Government would have been in a minority. But apart from that, the election by Manitoba of members opposed to the present Ottawa administration would have a great effect on public opinion in the east and would compel any government to modify those artificial conditions which are so baneful to us. At present the Government goes to the people in the east who like ourselves feel the weight of protection and misgovernment, asks and receives as much support as a government which is building up this Northwest into a great country. Farmers there are urged to rise above their selfish interests and support a government which is developing this great territory; and they can point to a solid support from Manitoba and the Northwest as evidence of what they say. And how can any eastern man contradict them when we vote for the Ottawa Government; are we not the best judges of what the Government is doing for this country?

Lethbridge News: Some of the new legislation such as the municipal assessment ordinance and the ordinance respecting execution creditors is of a decidedly novel character. The former is startling in the simplicity of its provisions which are impracticable throughout and we can well understand, after examining it, why Mr. Macdonald successfully opposed it. Its provisions have an appropriately absurd character in its provisions of any Dominion character inconsistent with the ordinance are thereby repealed. The people of the Territories may desire more self government than they have got, but our plucky legislators, not content with exercising the powers in their power, have taken upon itself to stamp and direct the federal parliament of its authority. Under the circumstances it seems very probable that the federal authorities will shew little or no interest in the ordinance which should not do so, it is not probable this ordinance will ever be more than a dead letter.

Regina Leader: In the address of the Moosomin Conservative Association to Mr. Foster the following occurs: "The wisdom of the Government is manifest in the selection of such an able representative as yourself to visit this western country to make such enquiries of the people as will enable you to adjust the tariff in such a way and to such an extent as will be in the best interest of our common country." And the Moosomin Board of Trade in their address say: "We are firmly impressed with the fact that the necessities of the producing farmers cost too much, owing to the want of competition, through conditions existing, which are sheltered under the high tariff. These conditions exist in implements, binder twine, lumber, nails, wire fencing, coal oil and many other of the necessities of the agriculturalist." In the civic address in Calgary to Messrs. Foster and Angers occurs the following: "The absolute removal of duties on agricultural implements, binding twine and fencing material used in the Territories." The Calgary Board of Trade demanded the same.

Hamilton Spectator: Editor Luxton has succeeded in taking from the Winnipeg Free Press one of the two news franchises held for years by that paper, and that means that a new Luxton paper will speedily make its appearance in Winnipeg. The present owners of the Free Press have handicapped the paper by appointing Mr. St. John to the editorial chair. This gentleman has been in the employ of the Canadian Pacific railway, and his appointment to the editorship of the Free Press gives color to the assertion that that paper is a C.P.R. organ. A C.P.R. organ in Manitoba and the Northwest is about as popular as a Grand Trunk organ would be in Ontario, and the readily accepted assertion that the Free Press is now controlled by the big railway will give Editor Luxton a wonderful hold upon the people of the entire Northwest. If Mr. Luxton will reverse his policy on the separate school question he will make a success of his newspaper from the west.

An Ontario paper says: "Education paid for by the general public should cease at the common school. It should embrace a thorough course of practical study, including a commercial training sufficient to equip anyone for the ordinary vocations of life. If a few others think themselves specially fitted to obtain the so-called learned professions, that is nobody's business but their own, and they ought to find the ways and means of obtaining this professional education themselves. Surely no one can dispute the justice of such a contention."
